Perennial WISDOM is Yoga Alliance Approved

OUR MISSION

The Perennial WISDOM Teacher Training Program is designed to give students an in depth knowledge of yoga techniques, asana, philosophy, meditation, pranayama, anatomy and teaching methodology so they can go forth and share their love of yoga with others. In addition, we explore yoga's ancient past addressing many questions concerning the art and science of yoga today. Our program is inclusive and offered in a way that is accessible for any level of student wishing to deepen their understanding of yoga.

Perennial WISDOM Teacher Training Program is a 200 hour yoga teacher training course using standards established by Yoga Alliance (www.yogaalliance.org). The course includes a 4-day Immersion and 9 weekends, along with assigned readings, homework and observation requirements. Upon successful completion of Perennial WISDOM's TT Program, students will be awarded a Certificate of Completion and be eligible for registration with Yoga Alliance as a Registered Yoga Teacher (RYT) at the 200 hour level.

PERENNIAL WISDOM TEACHER TRAINING FACULTY

Meg Sirchio, E-RYT 200, Director

Meg Groves feels so fortunate to have found a second career....actually a second life, as a yoga teacher and owner of Perennial Yoga and Meditation. She's honored to extend the beauty and power of yoga to others knowing firsthand how transformational and healing this practice is. Her goal is to help her students move past self-imposed limitations and experience their true power and goodness. Along the way she wants them to experience inspiration, truth, possibility, laughter and inner peace, so when they step off their mat and into their life they take the innate strength and loving kindness they've reconnected with into their world. Perennial Yoga and Meditation and her yoga teaching is an expression of what she's learned during her life journey as a woman, a mom, a social worker for 23 years and as a University Professor teaching group dynamics and leadership. Meg has studied with Baron Baptist and has her 200 hour yoga teacher certification. She has been a student in the higher education classroom, of influential teachers, and during travel throughout the world but she continually strives to make the present moment her most important teacher.

Keith Borden, E-RYT 200 RYT, Co-Director

Keith Borden is consistently turned on by the stillness within movement, the silence hidden in sound, and the esoteric in the everyday. I love to practice yoga, and sharing this practice that I love for the last decade has been a terrific gift. I'm very lucky. I have great teachers in my life – Jasmine Tarkeshi, Dana Flynn, David Robson, David Gellineau, Manorama, and Rabbi Joseph Gellberman – and being a student is one of the best parts of the yoga practice. The classes I offer are energetic and balanced, and are infused with playfulness and creativity. I strive to live, breathe, and offer the devotion-rich yoga that comes out of my daily home practice. I'm a singer, kirtan wallah, a bhakti yogi, and an interfaith minister. I always chant with my classes, and occasionally I play and sing during savasana. I love to experiment in my practice, and years of Muay Thai, Tai Chi, and Qi Gong have taught me that all movement is healing and complementary to my sadhana. My goal is to hold a space that fosters inner quiet, true strength, and a healthy, joyous spirit where students can re-unite with and REJOICE in their true Self.

David Lincecum – 200 RYT, Ayurvedic Practitioner - Ayurveda

David Lincecum is a Certified Ayurvedic Practitioner, certified in ayurvedic yoga therapy by the California College of Ayurveda and a registered yoga teacher.

Sean Ward – 200 RYT, Meditation

Sean completed the 200 hour Yoga Teaching Certification at Inner Fire Yoga in 2012. He came to yoga as a way to accentuate his meditation practice. As an instructor, his style is heart-centered, promoting presence and connection with Self. Every class, he feels, is an opportunity to create an environment that promotes a more meditative, spiritual practice.

Scott Lamps – 200 RYT, Anatomy

I have yet to find the limits of yoga practice. Many years ago, I was a soccer player who began yoga in order to keep my body healthy and strong while avoiding the injuries that come with competitive sports. Along with a healthy body came mental control, determination and patience. I love yoga for its athleticism – I participate in the USA Yoga Asana Competitions. I also love it for its physical therapy – Ghosh yoga is founded on the principle of creating health in the body, both inside and out. I also love it for its serenity, spirituality and stillness of mind – breath control and meditation are growing parts of my personal practice. I studied with Tony Sanchez, a yogi who has been practicing for 40 years without injury, focusing on sustainability, spinal health and individual modification. My teaching is always focused on using proper body mechanics combined with mental control and stillness. I strive to balance each class with strength, determination, relaxation and stress relief.

Bryan Sirchio – The Bhagavad Gita

Bryan is passionate about spirituality in general and is an avid student of the Wisdom Tradition and the spiritual practices found at the core of all major religious visions. Bryan holds degrees from Duke University (A.B. in Religion with a concentrated study in Psychology) and Princeton Theological Seminary (Masters in Divinity). He is an ordained UCC minister and former pastor, a retreat leader, songwriter, author, recording studio owner, and his original music has been published widely throughout the U.S. and abroad. Bryan has also worked extensively with grassroots organizations among the poorest of the poor in Haiti since 1990, and he looks forward to sharing this magical country with Perennial members on upcoming Sacred Journeys to Haiti. Bryan loves taking yoga classes at Perennial and when he is not in Madison he is often on the road offering concerts, keynote addresses at conferences, and leading retreats.

Katie Hill – 200 RYT, Setting Intentions, Creating Themes and Speaking to Spirit

Having been introduced to the practice at the ripe age of 13 as a way to cope with a rather fiery adolescence, Katie has been dedicated to yoga and meditation for 27 years. In 2006 she received her 200-hour teachers certificate from Living Yoga Program in Austin, TX.

She has studied with many amazing master teachers, and blends the best of her favorite styles into a grounded slow flow practice that is calming and lifeaffirming. Katie believes that every person can do yoga and can benefit from the life-changing practice, regardless of the state of their physical body or their current beliefs about their abilities. Her style incorporates grace, humor, acceptance, and mindfulness.

Jamie Healy – 200 RYT, The Practice of Dharma Visioning

Jamie took her first yoga class in Seattle in 2002 and has been practicing ever since. She has a deep respect for the ability of the human body to heal itself and has seen firsthand what a consistent yoga practice can do to calm the mind and deepen the connection to self and others. Jamie is a lover of all things natural. Often described as “organic,” she creates natural skin care products using essential oils. In 2014 Jamie received her 200 hour RYT certification after completing the Perennial Wisdom Yoga Teacher Training at Perennial Yoga & Meditation. Jamie’s classes will encourage you to trust your inner teacher and connect to your truest nature.

Carla Coleman – 200 RYT, Working with Beginning Yoga Students

It has been said that we may have been sent to yoga by challenges and obstacles in life, and that yoga is about moving toward the light. Carla’s own transformational journey began at Perennial Yoga and Meditation in January 2012 and she received her RYT 200 through Perennial Wisdom Teacher Training two years later.

Like an archeological dig, her yoga practice has helped her to peel away the layers that had dusted over the authentic self. Her wish is to share this amazing, heartfelt practice with others through vinyasa flow classes that create a moving meditation, a space for your inner wisdom to percolate to the surface, a place to find the stillness inside, and an opportunity to access the spiritual through the physical. Movement, music, meditation, breath work and joy are the foundations of her classes. You bring yourself, your life, your truth. Her hope is for you to unearth your own gifts and grace on your mat, take those treasures into your life, and to live from that center.

On our yoga mat and meditation cushion, we find the space to reconnect with who and what we really are.

FACILITIES

This practice gives the student substantial teaching experience:

- learn to speak from a place of authenticity
- understand the importance of cueing with clarity
- practice incorporating a theme, quote, intention into the class

These opportunities to teach to the group will not be graded.

They are opportunities for each student to practice their craft.

Final Practicum

The final practicum is an opportunity for the student to deepen, refine, and demonstrate his/her understanding of how to plan and teach a Vinyasa Yoga class. Final practicums will be conducted during the final weekend session. Students will be evaluated based on 2 guidelines; Their use of the arc of a Vinyasa Class as taught in the program to create a thoughtful class sequence and second; Their ability to cue students accurately into poses and hold space for the class. This practicum will be assessed by Pass/Needs More Refinement. Students will be given 2 additional opportunities in a 2 month period to convert “Needs More Refinement” into “Pass”.
