Do you hear that? This is important.

Do you remember the last time you entertained the thought of becoming a massage therapist? Perhaps it was during a high school or college career when you were introduced to the idea of a relaxing career with a future outside of your current career. We would greatly appreciate your interest. Considering you could make your own schedule and take the most enjoyable route to your career. Don't let fear or hesitation stand in the way of pursuing your passion.

We've got the calling, you've made the commitment, and now it's time to act on it. There is a primary teacher and program that offers you a chance to gain hands-on training and... We'll be here to help you take a step of faith and schedule an interview to explore our Spring Program further. Let's transform your aspirations into reality together.

Warm regards,

Dawn Hilde,
Director of Questions & Co., Owner
